For our assemblies today we shared the experiences of a number of our learners who were able to visit Lourdes in France, where Mary appeared to Bernadette. Learners shared their experiences of the trip and we all joined in with hymns and prayers that they learned. We all came together for singing practise at the end of the day, which is always a very uplifting way to end the week.

Don't be afraid, for I am with you. Don't be discouraged, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you. I will hold you up with my victorious right hand.

Head Teachers Message

All of the classes began their new learning cycles this week so it is a very exciting in each class with new displays starting to be created. Outdoor spaces are starting to show summer growth even if the cold weather keeps making an appearance. Pippin Class took the bold step of going indoor sky diving and had an absolutely brilliant time as you can see from the pictures. More trips are planned for next week including skiing, temple visits and trips to the farm. Let's just hope we finally get weather! Have a good weekend.

Beacon:

It was a busy week 1 of our new cycle theme "Super Vet". Students engaged very well with the Walking in the jungle sensory story, searching around the class to find the matching animal in cognition, in RE we have engaged in a lesson about Jesus calming a storm and we reinforced our knowledge around our daily routine in PSHE. The cookies we baked on our food tech lesson were delicious! And students loved kneading the dough. Our Aspirational Award this week went to Bobby for doing very well with his same and different in cognition. Good job Bobby!

Bramley:

It's been a really exciting new week as we have jumped into our new cycle which will run up to the end of this academic year (SUPER VET). This week we've been exploring the new theme in a variety of ways. Including new stories for our communication lessons, arts and crafts from ourselves and with help from our brilliant team from the drawing room, new problem solving tasks for our cognition lessons among much else. It's been a superb week and everyone here in Bramley are very proud of the efforts and contributions of our learners. Our star of the week has been given to Destiny for showing so much confidence in the classroom and walking with confidence during our breaks. Picture for the week is from our morning book reading sessions. The new topic has helped some of our students find personal favourites. Wishing you all a lovely week from Myself and the rest of Bramley, Greg

Jubilee:

This was a four-day week and we made the most of it! We all had a fantastic time celebrating King Charles' Coronation. Our topic this term is Blooming Marvellous and we are learning about planting, horticulture and mini beasts. We have created an expanding garden containing vegetables, flowers and herbs. We ended the week by making butterflies cakes and they were DELICIOUS! Have a lovely weekend

Pippin:

Pippin class have had an incredible week of new experiences; the sky really was the limit this week as our class went indoor skydiving. Each student achieved four individual flights each within winds of over 100mph, for a truly sensory and physical experience. Each student demonstrated outstanding listening and communication skills, with big smiles all around. Following on from this our students have also enjoyed Ashvale gardening this week, cooking, music therapy and the Three Little Pigs sensory story for our new topic Super Vet.

For our STAR of the week I would like to nominate all three students, Freddie, Gabriel and Greta for being brave and trying something new. More pictures below!

Stirling:

This week Stirling class began their new cycle of learning all to do with the great British summer. This saw learners embarking on their new book for literacy, James and the Giant Peach, while identifying key features and quotes to support their character analysis. They also gained further knowledge on the use of instructional text in literature. Numeracy has seen learners engaging with statistics while identifying the different types of statistical information out there and why it can be very useful. A trip to the supermarket and food tech session lead to a wonderful summer time picnic being made by the group which was enjoyed in the sunshine on Wednesday lunch time with outdoor games and activities. The latter part of the week focused on understanding our bodies more in science and for topic and RE we discovered the many different types of community out there in our local areas. With a link to our British value of individual liberty and how people are free to be part of a religious community and some may not want to be but at the heart of this liberty is tolerance.

Winston:

Happy Friday from Winston!

We have enjoyed our literacy lessons, listening to the audio book James and The Giant Peach and following the words on screen.

The students have worked hard on their literacy, numeracy, communication, science, community and relationships.

At the farm we had the pleasure of feeding the lambs and the alpacas.

Today we visited the nurses to join in the celebrations for Nurses Day.

Have a great weekend

Friday's Prayer

Dear God,

We pray that today, we might experience a sense of wellbeing and satisfaction about life. We ask you to help us to remember the practical things that we can do to support our own wellbeing. We thank you for the ways in which both science and religion remind us of what works towards health and happiness.

Help us today to feel able to connect, be active, take notice, keep learning and give.

Please help us especially to be kind and generous to ourselves and others when we feel unwell and unhappy, and have poor wellbeing.

Amen.
